

Statement of Client Rights and Responsibilities

As a client of the Learning Consultants I have certain rights and responsibilities including

1. Receive services without regard to race, creed, national origin, religion, gender, sexual orientation, age, or disability
2. Be reasonably accommodated in case of sensory or physical disability, limited ability to communicate, and/or limited English proficiency
3. Be treated with respect, dignity, and privacy
4. Be free of sexual harassment and exploitation, including physical and financial exploitation
5. Have all clinical and personal information treated in accord with state and federal confidentiality regulations
6. Have access to my clinical record, including an opportunity to review the record in the presences of an administrator and/or receive a copy of my record
7. Request amendments or corrections to your record
8. Receive age and culturally appropriate services delivered in accordance with federal and state regulations as well as the Behavior Analyst Certification Board's Ethics Professional and Ethical Compliance Code for Behavior Analysts¹
9. Participate actively in the development of my treatment plan and treatment, including the right to refuse treatment
10. Be free of seclusion or restraint as a means coercion, discipline, convenience, or retaliation
11. Be informed of and access the Learning Consultants grievance process at any time you feel your rights have been violated

The Responsibility To:

1. Participate actively in the treatment process and follow the plan of care, recommendations, and agreed upon interventions to the best of your ability
2. Notify my provider when I have concerns about the treatment plan or progress
3. Comply with the policies outlined in the parent handbook

¹ Behavior Analyst Certification Board. (2020). Ethics code for behavior analysts.